Gospel Preaching

Let a man stand in the pulpit and preach "hellfire and damnation" to sinners, denouncing everyone except himself and invariably someone will leave the assembly saying, "Now that is what I call gospel preaching!"

I am somewhat bothered by that assessment. It's not that I disagree with the wicked being punished. Jesus spoke clearly on the subject. The apostle Paul affirms that, "the wages of sin is death." The troublesome thing to me is the abuse of the word "gospel."

Jesus came preaching "the gospel of the kingdom of God"; Ephesians speaks of "the gospel of your salvation"; and Paul tells the elders of the church at Ephesus, that his purpose is "to testify to the gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20:24). Always the gospel is spoken of with great joy. The Gospel is "good news." Coming from the greek it means "good tidings". In Anglo-Saxon it became literally "the good story." So I take it that when a man is preaching the gospel he is sharing good news with his audience.

In speaking to the Corinthians Paul said, "I would remind you, brethren, in what terms I preached to you the gospel, which you received, in which you stand, by which you are saved, if you hold it fast, unless you believed in vain. For I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received, that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the scriptures. (1 Corinthians 15:1-4). What better news could there be than to learn that we can be saved by the death, burial and resurrection of Christ?"

The gospel is a message of salvation from condemnation, not a message of condemnation. It is the greatest gift ever received by any living person. In every sense of the word it is good news, and should be presented joyfully. When this great message is presented eagerly, enthusiastically, and with love, I call that, "gospel preaching".

HAVE A GREAT WEEK!
